

experience [life]

see

Our huge video information wall and interactive screens throughout the store can help you to understand and use the latest communications technology.

hear

You're invited to join regular T[life] workshops in our new, state of the art mini auditorium. Gain expert advice on how our products and services can connect, organise and entertain you.

Step into the future of communication

touch

When you see our products in store, they are switched on, connected and ready to go. You get to see what the products actually do and how our networks perform, instead of replica handsets with no functionality. We want you to be able to experience for yourself how our products look, feel and operate - we're sure you'll be amazed.

Australia's first T[life] store is open 7.30am-9pm Mon-Fri, 9-5 on weekends
